3. CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Investor,

On behalf of the Board of CFOAM Limited, it is my privilege and pleasure to present this Prospectus for our initial public offer. CFOAM Limited will raise up to $9 million, with a minimum subscription of $5 million under the Public Offer which will be used to settle the Acquisition, implement the de-bottleneck of the CFOAM production process and commence the Company's commercialisation strategy.

There has been growing demand for ultra-high end performance engineering materials in the military, industrial, aerospace and commercial product markets. In response to this, Touchstone Research, a United States based entity, has directly and through funding grants, invested over US$60 million to date in developing CFOAM products and end use applications.

As a result of the development of the CFOAM products and end use applications, the Company (via its wholly owned subsidiary) has entered into an asset purchase agreement to acquire all production plant and equipment, intellectual property contracts and infrastructure related to the production of "CFOAM". This acquisition is subject to the satisfaction of various conditions precedent (summarised in Section 11.1) and following this acquisition, the Company intends to grow and become a recognised player in the production of high end performance engineering materials.

On behalf of the board of Directors, I present the Public Offer to you and recommend that you read this Prospectus in full. I look forward to welcoming you as a supportive shareholder of the Company.

Yours sincerely

Gary Steinepreis
Non-Executive Chairman

Item	Summary	Further information
	(e) Touchstone Research's interest in the CFOAM technology is currently protected by a number of US patents which gives the Board comfort on the status of the CFOAM technology and the intellectual property rights of Touchstone Research (see Section 6.5 and the Intellectual Property Report at Section 9). (f) CFOAM has a credible technical and management team (see Section 4.10 for details of management profiles). The Board is of the view that proceeding with the Acquisition is in the best interests of the Company for the reasons set out above.
B. Business Model

Section 6
What are the key dependencies of the Company's business model	The key factors that the Company will depend on to meet its objectives are: (a) the ability to investigate and exploit new and existing markets for the CFOAM products; (b) the generation of sales of the CFOAM products; (c) de-bottlenecking the process of CFOAM production and producing sufficient inventory for sale; and	Section 6.6

Item	Summary	Further information
	(d) attracting and retaining key personnel as the commercialisation strategy proceeds.
C. Key Investment Highlights and Risks
What are the key investment highlights?	The Directors are of the view that an investment in the Company provides the following non-exclusive list of key highlights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) the Acquisition represents an investment opportunity for the Company to commercialise the CFOAM products; (b) the Acquisition will provide the opportunity to increase the value of the Company; (c) the Directors and management team have extensive experience and a track record with technology companies; and (d) the Company may be able to raise further funds at higher prices by way of share equity as a result of the Acquisition. 	Section 6.2
What are the key risks of an investment in the Company	The business, assets and operations of the Company, including after Completion, are subject to certain risk factors that have the potential to influence the operating and financial performance of the Company in the future. These risks can impact on the value of an investment in the Securities of the Company. The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing risk control measures. Some of the risks are, however, highly unpredictable and the extent to which the Board can effectively manage them is limited. Based on the information available, a summary of the key risk factors affecting the Company are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Ability to Commercialise Production: The Company plans to provide the necessary capital to increase output, improve 	Section 7

	efficiencies, reduce operating costs and expand the manufacturing sales team to significantly increase sales. The Company has identified capital expenditure improvements in the business model to debottleneck production; increase output capacity and lower costs. The Company has provided the capital expenditure based on estimates and these costs may be higher and take longer to implement which may delay and/or change the business model. (b) Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS): Carbon Innovations and Touchstone Research lodged a notice for review under CFIUS on 6 June 2016. CFIUS will firstly determine whether the foreign investment is a “covered” transaction (i.e. whether the completion of the transaction results in foreign control of any person engaged in interstate commerce in the US). If so, CFIUS will then consider whether the transaction raises potential US national security or critical infrastructure implications. If so determined, then it may block the transaction or request the parties to take certain steps to mitigate such risk. (c) Commercialisation of CFOAM: There is a risk that if the Company’s commercialisation strategy does not develop as planned, the failure to successfully develop and commercialise CFOAM could lead to a requirement to raise additional capital, loss of opportunities and may adversely impact on the Company’s operating results and financial position. (d) Additional Requirements for Capital to Continue Commercialisation Strategy: As

Item	Summary	Further information
	the Company's commercialisation strategy progresses it will need to increase its production to cater for growth and to do so, the Company may require financing in addition to amounts raised under the Public Offer. Any additional equity financing will dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations and scale back its production. (e) Research and Development Activities: The Company can make no representation that any of its research into the further development of CFOAM will be successful, that any development milestones will be achieved, or that CFOAM will be developed into products that are commercially exploitable. (f) Intellectual Property Risks: The Company's interest in the CFOAM technology is currently protected by a number of US patents. Whilst this will provide the Company with protection, the granting of a patent does not guarantee that the rights of others are not infringed or that competitors will not develop competing technologies that circumvent such patents. The Company's success depends, in part, on its ability to maintain patents, maintain trade secret protection and operate without infringing the proprietary rights of third parties. (g) Uncertainty of Future Profitability: The Company's ability to operate profitably in the future will depend in part on its ability to successfully commercialise its products and grow sales of CFOAM via an increase in market share in the aerospace tooling market and

	expanding into new markets and identifying additional end uses. Other factors include the Company's ability to manage its costs, execute its development and growth strategies, economic conditions in the markets in which it operates, competitive factors and regulatory developments. Accordingly future profitability is uncertain. (h) Failure to Meet Regulatory Standards: The Company's operations could be materially adversely affected if it is unable to obtain or maintain a licence or approval which it is required to obtain or maintain in order to conduct its operations; it breaches any applicable legislative or regulatory requirement; it is required to comply with new or additional legislative or regulatory requirements; or the costs of complying with applicable legislation and regulations increase. (i) Staff Risk: There is a risk that, where there is a turnover of development staff who have knowledge of the technology and business, that knowledge will be lost in the event that those staff resign or retire. This involves the risk that those staff will have information in respect of the Company's intellectual property which has a commercial value to the Company as well as an opportunity cost for replacement of those staff and subsequent training. For further information on these key risks and additional specific risks associated with the contemplated Acquisition please refer to Sections 7.2 and 7.3. For other general investment risks, please refer to Section 7.4.

6. COMPANY AND PROJECT OVERVIEW

6.1 Background

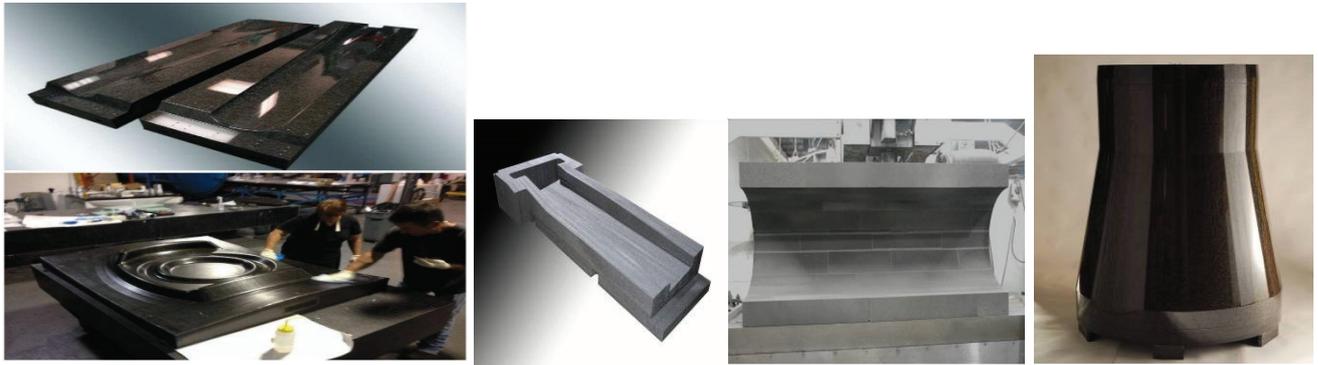

On 29 March 2016, the Company, through its wholly owned US subsidiary, Carbon Innovations entered into an asset purchase agreement (which was subsequently amended) to acquire all production plant equipment, intellectual property (including patents and trademarks), leases, inventory, contracts and infrastructure related to the production of carbon foam "CFOAM®" (Assets) from Touchstone Research and Brian Joseph (Asset Purchase Agreement). A summary of the material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement is set out in section 11.1 of this Prospectus.

CFOAM is an inorganic carbon material that is manufactured from coal, pitch or lignin feedstock. CFOAM manufactured in this process has a rigid foam structure similar in appearance to pumice stone, but with entirely different properties. CFOAM is currently used across a wide variety of markets including composite tooling for the aerospace sector, energy absorbing applications and defence applications. Additional markets such as the automotive applications for energy absorption and fire resistance are also expected become significant to the Company over time.

CFOAM was developed to meet the growing demand for ultra-high end performance engineering materials in the, industrial, aerospace, military and commercial product markets.

Touchstone Research has over the last 20 years invested, in its own right and via funding grants, approximately US$60m in developing CFOAM products and end use applications.

The Board is of the opinion that the opportunity presented under the Acquisition represents an opportunity that is in the best interests of the Company.

CFOAM – A Brief Overview

Low Coefficient of Thermal Expansion

CFOAM ideal for aerospace tooling applications using carbon fibre with a CTE at 5.0 ppm/°C

Strong

Compressive Strength 7.58 - 22.1 MPa (1,100 - 3,200 psi). Can perform as standalone material or bond with other materials.

Permeable

Open porosity approximately 85 percent.

Lightweight

CFOAM is lightweight with a density range of 0.32-0.48 g/cc (20-30 lbs/ft³).

Machinable

CFOAM's uniform density results in consistent machining with reduced waste. CFOAM can be cut into many shapes and configurations.

Multiple Market Applications

- Aerospace Tooling
- Energy Absorbing
- Defence

Fire Resistance

CFOAM passes all key fire tests including radiant panel, smoke generator, toxicity, cone colorimeter, fire resistance and room corner tests.

Affordable

Investment in CFOAM production will result in commercial scale and will be economically manufactured

6.2 Key Investment Highlights

The Directors are of the view that an investment in the Company provides the following non-exclusive list of key highlights:

- (a) the Acquisition represents an investment opportunity for the Company to commercialise the CFOAM products;
- (b) the Acquisition will provide the opportunity to increase the value of the Company;
- (c) the Directors and management team have extensive experience and a track record with technology companies; and
- (d) the Company may be able to raise further funds at higher prices by way of share equity as a result of the Acquisition.

6.3 Business Model

Development of CFOAM has progressed over the past 20 years from a conceptual idea into a bench/pilot scale process and now CFOAM is ready to transition into a fully commercialised manufacturing process.

On Completion of the Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company will own the Assets, which are everything necessary for the production of CFOAM. As part of the Assets, the Company will own 100% of the intellectual property, inclusive of 27 US patents related to both the manufacture of CFOAM and its end use applications.

The Company's core business will be the manufacturing of carbon foam billets from a bituminous coal feedstock. Initial production and sales of CFOAM billets will initially focus on two product lines – CFOAM₂₀ (20 lb/ft³) and CFOAM₃₀ (30 lb/ft³).

The Company will commercialise the manufacturing process providing management depth and manufacturing and marketing experience to drive the growth of the business and sales of CFOAM while reducing production costs. The Company intends to transition the current business structure relating to CFOAM from a research and development enterprise to a profit oriented, growth centric business. Opportunities within the footprint of the existing manufacturing facility have been identified and are expected to improve efficiencies, increase output and reduce operating costs. The current manufacturing facility is located approximately one hour from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania near Wheeling, West Virginia. The current site has the capability to expand and grow capacity output to approximately 30,000 ft³ per annum.

Existing facility located in West Virginia, off interstate 70.

The Company's sales and marketing plans will initially focus on three (3) primary market areas:

- (a) aerospace composite tooling;
- (b) energy absorbing applications; and
- (c) defence related applications.

Key to increasing sales beyond current volumes and existing customers will be a build-up of CFOAM inventory to capture sales opportunities as they become available. As part of the Asset Purchase Agreement, the seller, Touchstone Research, has committed in a Supply Agreement to purchase a minimum of 4,148.15 cubic feet of CFOAM₃₀ in the first year from Completion. A summary of the material terms of the Supply Agreement is set out in section 11.4 of the Prospectus.

(a) Aerospace Composite Tooling

CFOAM's high strength, low thermal expansion coefficient, light weight and lower cost make it ideal for use in aerospace mould tools. Current aerospace customer base includes Northrop Grumman Corporation, Boeing, Orbital ATK, Sikorski San Diego Composites and ACT Aerospace. The funds raised pursuant to the Public Offer will provide the necessary capital to increase output, improve efficiencies, reduce operating costs and professionalise the manufacturing sales team to generate product sales.

(b) Energy Absorbing Applications

CFOAM's high compressive strength, light weight/low density and crushability/energy absorbing properties make it ideally suited to energy absorbing applications.

(c) Defence Related Applications

Extensive research of CFOAM in defence related applications has been undertaken, and various applications including the following have been identified:

- (i) Navy uptake exhaust stack replacement – the use of CFOAM reduces manufacturing costs and saves weight when compared with the materials used in existing vessel ship exhausts systems; and

- (ii) Missile Defence Agency – the lightweight, low cost CFOAM system provides protection from lightning strikes and atmospheric debris.

6.4 CFOAM Manufacturing Scale Up

As outlined above, there are considerable market opportunities for CFOAM. The increasing use of carbon fibre in the aerospace and defence sectors has provided the opportunity for CFOAM to be used for construction of carbon composite mould tooling. There is an opportunity to replace the incumbent materials currently used in aerospace tooling. For dimensionally critical mould tooling applications, CFOAM competes with monolithic graphite and Invar, a high nickel, alloy steel. CFOAM's unique properties set it apart from its competitor materials. Being virtually pure, inorganic carbon, CFOAM shares the same properties as carbon fibre. In addition, CFOAM possesses the same thermal expansion coefficient properties at a significant material cost savings when compared with the incumbent materials currently in use.

Key Components and Assumptions

(a) Engineering and Operations

The target for initial annual production of CFOAM has been set at 10,000 ft³ per year. This output rate has been previously met by Touchstone Research for monthly interval periods. First year plans include selling 80% or 8,000 ft³ of this production. The remaining 20% will be inventoried on consignment at key customer locations and locally inventoried at an off-site warehouse location already under lease. A working inventory is critical in capturing tooling orders with a rapid turnaround requirement.

Operating supplies required to produce CFOAM include bituminous coal, liquid nitrogen, natural gas and electric power. The Company has performed an independent coal supply analysis study and confirmed a number of suitable suppliers available. Nitrogen supply is delivered by truck into a bulk supply tank at site. Adequate supplies of natural gas and electric power are also readily available.

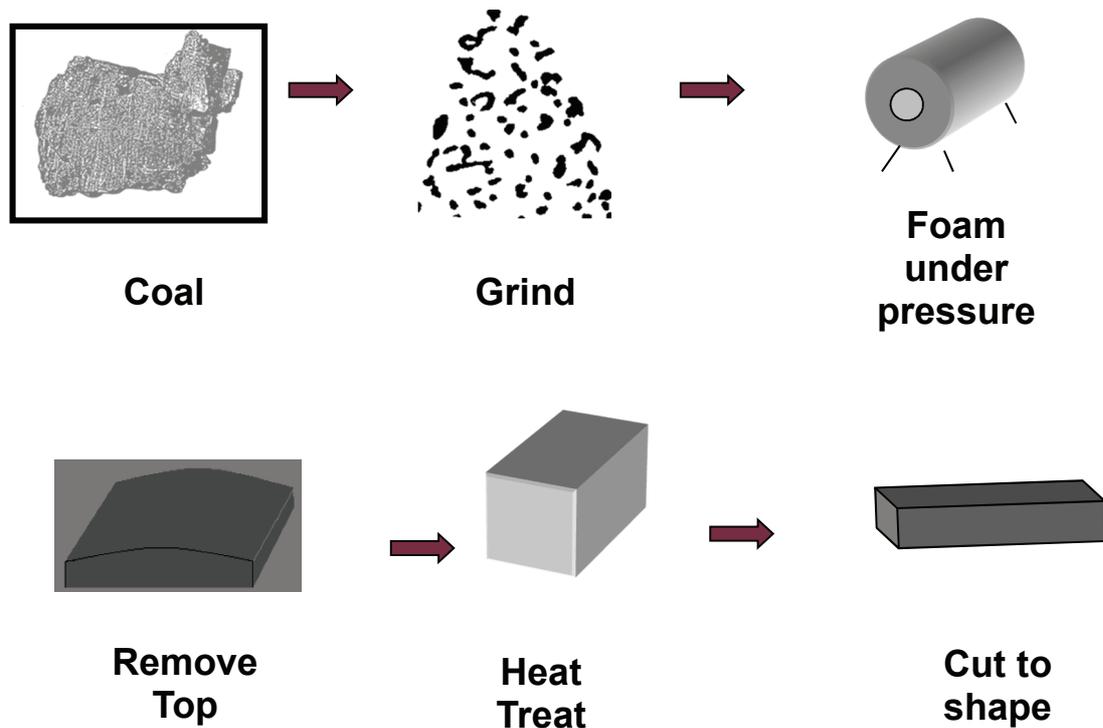

The production process to make CFOAM incorporates a reactor vessel oven to produce "green foam" and an electric kiln oven to calcine or heat treat the green foam producing hardened, carbon foam billets. The manufacture of CFOAM from coal is a patented, proprietary process involving de-volatilising the feedstock under tightly controlled atmospheric, temperature and pressure conditions. Net CFOAM output on one run cycle is 100 ft³ of carbon foam.

Labour requirements for the first year of production have been identified. Carbon Innovations will make offers of employment to key production personnel currently employed by Touchstone Research. These personnel who have given indication that they will work for the Company possess over 50 years of combined CFOAM experience in research, development and manufacturing. As part of the Asset Purchase Agreement, Touchstone Research will terminate these employees prior to Completion from which time they will be offered employment with Carbon Innovations.

The Public Offer will provide the necessary capital to increase output, improve efficiencies, reduce operating costs and professionalise the manufacturing sales team to significantly increase sales. The Company has identified capital expenditure improvements in the business model to debottleneck production, increase output capacity and lower costs. Expansion capital has also been identified and the Company will consider adding both autoclave and kiln ovens as market demand grows.

CFOAM[®] 20 & 30 Manufacturing Process

(b) Sales and Marketing

The Company proposes to grow sales of carbon foam billets in three ways:

- (i) increase market share in the aerospace composite tooling market from its competitors (Invar and monolithic graphite);
- (ii) grow with the aerospace tooling market; and
- (iii) expand sales into new markets.

Our sales and marketing strategy will initially focus on three market areas:

- (i) aerospace composite tooling;
- (ii) energy absorbing applications; and
- (iii) defence related applications.

The sales and marketing plan for CFOAM contemplates two sales channels:

- (i) direct CFOAM sales targeting the existing customer base; and
- (ii) sales representatives employed on a monthly retainer with sales commission.

Michael Placha, who has sales experience in both manufacturing and mining, will lead all sales and marketing efforts. As CFOAM markets expand, the business plan contemplates engaging additional sales and marketing personnel.

(c) Competition and Markets

Applications with the strongest technical and market fit for CFOAM include the following:

- (i) aerospace composite tooling;
- (ii) energy absorbing applications;
- (iii) firewall applications;
- (iv) thermal protection systems; and
- (v) EMI shielding and lightning protection.

Aerospace Composite Tooling

Competing Materials: Nickel-iron alloys (Invar) and monolithic graphite.

Benefits: Significantly lower cost (5X–10X) compared to Invar and monolithic graphite, identical CTE properties, ease of machining significant weight savings, and can be applied to self-heated tools.

Energy Absorbing Applications

Competing Materials: High density foams, rubber materials, plastics, steel and concrete.

Benefits: Lower cost and significant weight savings when compared with steel and concrete applications. Resistant to fire when compared with foams, rubber and plastics.

Firewall Applications

Competing Materials: Steel and concrete.

Benefits: Lower cost and significant weight savings when compared with steel and concrete applications. CFOAM is capable of meeting the “non-combustible” standard when tested in accordance with ISO 1182 as directed by the U.S. Coast Guard and the International Maritime Organization (IMO), which meets underwriter requirements for commercial and maritime applications. ISO-1182 tests materials in a 750°C environment for combustibility with three metrics for passing: combustibility, mass loss, and temperature rise.

Thermal Protection Systems

Competing Materials: Ceramics and super alloys.

Benefits: CFOAM is a very high temperature material and an insulator; it can be used as a mid-density thermal protection system for spacecraft.

EMI Shielding and Lightning Protection

Competing Materials: Mu Metal.

Benefits: Electronically conductive thermal protection system protecting rockets from lightning strikes as they pass through the atmosphere.

(d) Regulatory

CFOAM manufacturing facilities are fully permitted in accordance with the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection. Permit No. R13-2578B for Plant ID No. 069-00083 is active and in good standing for all air quality management requirements.

Source emissions from both autoclaves and kilns are in compliance with all pollutant standards:

- (i) PM/PM₁₀/PM_{2.5}
- (ii) SO₂
- (iii) NO_x
- (iv) CO

All emissions are controlled with three (3) natural gas fired thermal oxidizers. The raw material processing rate identified in the permit exceeds any future coal demand requirements at this site by a factor of 3.5X.

(e) Community – Local and State

The production of CFOAM utilises powdered bituminous coal as its feedstock. The source coal is produced in the Central Appalachian Region (manufacturing location). Historically, West Virginia is a coal producing and coal focused state. Manufacturing CFOAM from locally mined coal provides for significant support from both the local and state level.

Locally, real estate building leases are with a non-profit development authority named Ohio Valley Industrial and Business Development Corporation. As part of the Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company will sublease designated portions of three buildings for manufacturing, warehouse and office space. The Company will also sublease one kiln, coal loading equipment and foam machining equipment.

At the state level, considerable support and opportunity exists for CFOAM. The West Virginia Economic Development Authority (WVEDA) is charged with developing the business prosperity and economic welfare for the State of West Virginia. WVEDA is empowered to borrow money, issue bonds, notes, commercial paper and other debt instruments and to furnish money, credit, or credit enhancement for the promotion of business development projects. WVEDA provides financial assistance in the form of loans, direct financing and operating leases to industrial development agencies and enterprises for the promotion and retention of new and existing commercial and industrial development. The Company is in discussion with WVEDA regarding the opportunity for the sale-leaseback of certain assets to be acquired by the Company pursuant to the Asset Purchase Agreement.

6.5 Intellectual Property

Pursuant to the Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company will acquire 100% of all intellectual property related to the manufacture and end use of CFOAM as part of the Assets. The Company will own 100% of the intellectual property, inclusive of 27 US patents on Completion. Also included in the Assets to be acquired by the Company are 5 domain names and 3 registered trademarks (CFOAM x 2 and CSTONE).

The Company's intellectual property strategy revolves around the protection of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, methods for making and using carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, and methods for making and using applications of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, including protection through patents, confidential information and the use of trademarks.

The Company has taken steps to secure ownership of the patents related to carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, methods for making and using carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, and methods for making and using applications of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, including, upon Completion, obtaining assignment of patent rights from the seller, Touchstone Research, which, in turn, obtained rights from named inventors where required.

The Company has taken steps to secure ownership of registered trademarks in the United States of America from Touchstone Research upon Completion. Neither the Company nor Touchstone Resources owns any registered trademarks in Australia. Unregistered trademarks may be protected by the common law regimes of passing off and misleading and deceptive conduct under the Australian consumer law.

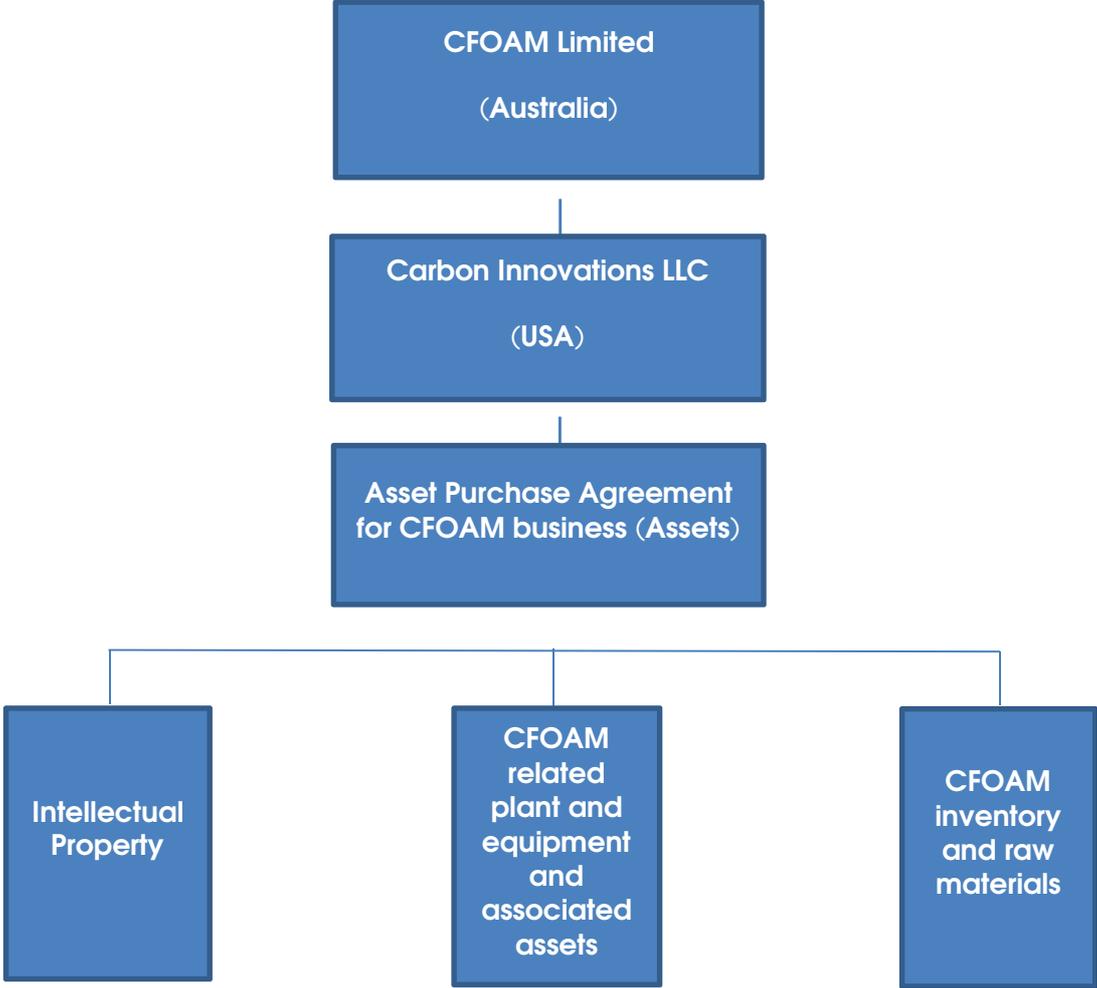

6.6 Key Dependencies

The key factors that the Company will depend on to meet its objectives are:

- (a) the ability to investigate and exploit new and existing markets for the CFOAM products;
- (b) the generation of sales of the CFOAM products;
- (c) de-bottlenecking the process of CFOAM production and producing sufficient inventory for sale; and
- (d) attracting and retaining key personnel as the commercialisation strategy proceeds.

6.7 Corporate Structure

On Completion of the Acquisition, the corporate and ownership structure of the Company and Group will be as follows:

7. RISK FACTORS

7.1 Introduction

The Securities offered under this Prospectus are considered highly speculative. An investment in the Company is not risk free and the Directors strongly recommend potential investors to consider the risk factors described below, together with information contained elsewhere in this Prospectus, before deciding whether to apply for Securities and to consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for Securities pursuant to this Prospectus.

There are specific risks which relate directly to our business. In addition, there are other general risks, many of which are largely beyond the control of the Company and the Directors. The risks identified in this section, or other risk factors, may have a material impact on the financial performance of the Company and the market price of the Securities.

The following is not intended to be an exhaustive list of the risk factors to which the Company is exposed.

7.2 Company Specific

(a) Competition and New Technologies

The industry in which the Company is involved is subject to increasing domestic and global competition which is fast-paced and fast-changing. While the Company will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, whose activities or actions may positively or negatively affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's projects and business. For instance, new technologies could result in CFOAM not being differentiated from other similar offerings.

The size and financial strength of some of CFOAM's competitors may make it difficult for it to maintain a competitive position in the high-end manufacturing materials market. In particular, the Company's ability to market and sell CFOAM could be adversely affected if it is unable to respond effectively and/or in a timely manner to the strategies and actions of competitors and potential competitors or the entry of new competitors into the market. This may in turn impede the financial condition and rate of growth of the Company.

The key competition risk is in achieving appreciable market share and differentiation from its key competitors.

(b) Ability to Commercialise Production

The Company plans to provide the necessary capital to increase output, improve efficiencies, reduce operating costs and professionalise the manufacturing sales team to significantly increase sales. The Company has identified capital expenditure improvements in the business model to debottleneck production; increase output capacity and lower costs.

The Company has provided the capital expenditure based on estimates and these costs may be higher and take longer to implement which may delay and/or change the business model. This may impact on sales and may in turn impede the financial condition and rate of growth of the Company.

(c) Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS)

CFIUS is an inter-agency committee of the US government that is authorised to review, investigate and block any transaction or investment that could result in the control of any US businesses or assets by a foreign person that may raise national security concerns, or involve critical infrastructure.

CFIUS has authority to initiate review of almost any foreign investment in a US company or asset that may have an impact on national security. It is not a mandatory requirement for the parties involved in such investment to file a notice for review by CFIUS. However, if such a notification is not filed, and subsequently CFIUS determines that the transaction raises US national security or critical infrastructure concerns, then CFIUS has the authority to unwind the transaction. Such action by CFIUS is not subject to review by a US court.

Carbon Innovations and Touchstone Research lodged a notice for review under CFIUS on 6 June 2016.

The CFIUS process is summarised as follows: the parties to a transaction with a voluntary review process, which allows CFIUS to issue a “no action” decision that protects the parties going forward with a so-called safe harbor protection. The parties voluntarily notify CFIUS, which initiates a review, generally before the transaction has closed or been completed. Routine reviews are generally quickly resolved and parties receive a “no action” determination within a 30-day period including a 7-14 day pre-filing discussion process with CFIUS. The filing can then be accepted as soon as the deal has been signed. A more extensive review time (another 45 days) may be needed, especially if the transaction involves a transfer to a foreign government or to companies controlled by foreign governments and sovereign wealth funds or if a transaction would result in the transfer of control of critical infrastructure to a foreign person. CFIUS may, then, propose that the parties take steps to mitigate any national security concerns. The Foreign Investment and National Security Act (FINSA) formalised the mitigation process, and today mitigation agreements overseen by CFIUS have become more common.

CFIUS will firstly determine whether the foreign investment is a “covered” transaction (i.e. whether the completion of the transaction result in foreign control of any person engaged in interstate commerce in the United States). If so, CFIUS will then consider whether the transaction (merger, acquisition or takeover) raises potential US national security or critical infrastructure implications. If so determined, then it may block the transaction or request the parties to take certain steps to mitigate such risk.

The risk has been identified and the Company and Carbon Innovations will seek the ‘no-action’ decision or take steps to mitigate such risk to the satisfaction of CFIUS.

(d) Commercialisation of CFOAM

The Company is relying on its ability to develop and commercialise CFOAM. As part of the settlement of the Acquisition, Carbon Innovations will issue a US$4,000,000 promissory note to Touchstone Research and this will be secured by a second lien security interest over the Assets. There is a risk that if the Company's commercialisation strategy does not develop, as planned, the failure to successfully develop and commercialise CFOAM could lead to a requirement to raise additional capital (refer to risk below), loss of opportunities and may adversely impact on the Company's operating results and financial position.

(e) Additional Requirements for Capital to Continue Commercialisation Strategy

As the Company's commercialisation strategy progresses it will need to increase its production to cater for growth. This will be done initially at the current premises. These premises are limited to growth and new premises will be required if production of CFOAM significantly increases. This transfer of production facilities and business will represent a significant capital investment and the Company will require further financing in addition to amounts raised under the capital raising. Any additional equity financing will dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations and scale back its production. There is however no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company.

(f) Research and Development Activities

The Company can make no representation that any of its research into the further development of CFOAM will be successful, that any development milestones will be achieved, or that CFOAM will be developed into products that are commercially exploitable.

(g) Intellectual Property Risks

Securing rights to the CFOAM technology, and in particular patents, is an integral part of securing potential product value in the outcomes of biotechnology research and development. Competition in retaining and sustaining protection of technology and the complex nature of technology can lead to expensive and lengthy patents disputes for which there can be no guaranteed outcome.

The Company's interest in the CFOAM technology is currently protected by a number of US and foreign patents. Whilst this will provide the Company with protection, the granting of a patent does not guarantee that the rights of others are not infringed or that competitors will not develop competing technologies that circumvent such patents. The Company's success depends, in part, on its ability to maintain patents, maintain trade secret protection and operate without infringing the proprietary rights of third parties. Because the patent position of technology companies can be highly uncertain and frequently involve complex legal and scientific evaluation, neither the breadth of claims allowed in patents nor their enforceability can be predicted. There can be no assurance that any patents the Company may own or control or licence now and in the future will afford the Company commercially significant protection of the CFOAM technology.

Although the Company is not aware of any third party interests in relation to the CFOAM intellectual property, and has taken steps to protect and confirm its interest in these rights, there is always a risk of third parties claiming involvement in technological discoveries, and if any disputes arise, they could adversely affect the Company.

Although the Company will implement all reasonable endeavours to protect the CFOAM Technology, there can be no assurance that these measures have been, or will be sufficient.

(h) Product Liability

The future sale of its products will expose the Company to product liability risks which are inherent in the research and development, manufacturing, marketing and use of its products. The Company will seek to obtain and maintain adequate levels of insurance to cover product liability risks.

Despite this, there can be no guarantee that adequate insurance coverage will be available at an acceptable cost (or in adequate amounts), if at all, or that product liability or other claims will not materially and adversely affect the operations and condition of the Company. A product liability claim may give rise to significant liabilities as well as damage the Company's reputation.

(i) Uncertainty of Future Profitability

The Company's ability to operate profitably in the future will depend in part on its ability to successfully commercialise its products and grow sales of CFOAM via an increase in market share in the aerospace tooling market and expanding into new markets and identifying additional end uses.

Other factors that will determine the Company's profitability are its ability to manage its costs, its ability to execute its development and growth strategies, economic conditions in the markets in which it operates, competitive factors and regulatory developments. Accordingly, the extent of future profits, if any, and the time required to achieve a sustained profitability are uncertain.

(j) Failure to Deal with Growth

The Company's business has the potential to grow rapidly. If that occurs and the Company fails to properly manage that growth, then that failure could harm its business. Any failure to meet customer demand properly could adversely affect the Company's business, including demand for the Company's products/services, revenue collection, customer satisfaction and public perception.

(k) Failure to Meet Regulatory Standards

The Company's operations could be materially adversely affected if:

- (i) it is unable to obtain or maintain a licence or approval which it is required to obtain or maintain in order to conduct its operations;
- (ii) it breaches any applicable legislative or regulatory requirement;
- (iii) it is required to comply with new or additional legislative or regulatory requirements; or
- (iv) the costs of complying with applicable legislation and regulations increase.

(l) Operational and Technical Risks

The future operations of the Company may be affected by a range of operational and technical factors which may affect commercialisation of CFOAM, including:

- (i) mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, work stoppage, increase in transportation costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes and other force majeure events; and
- (ii) unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of materials, plant and equipment.

(m) Staff Risk

There is a risk that, where there is a turnover of development staff who have knowledge of the technology and business, that knowledge will be lost in the event that those staff resign or retire. This involves the risk that those staff will have information in respect of the Company's intellectual property which has a commercial value to the Company as well as an opportunity cost for replacement of those staff and subsequent training.

This risk is mitigated as all staff contracts will contain express provisions with respect to ownership of intellectual property and restraints of trade to limit any potential loss suffered by the Company to the maximum extent possible.

(n) Liquidity Risk

There is no guarantee that the Shares will trade at a particular price or a particular volume after the Company's listing on the ASX. There is no guarantee that there will be an ongoing liquid market for Shares. Accordingly, there is a risk that, should the market for Shares become illiquid, Shareholders will be unable to realise their investment in the Company.

(o) Environmental Risk

The operations and proposed activities of the Company are subject to laws and regulations concerning the environment. As with most manufacturing and project development businesses, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment. It is the Company's intention to conduct its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation, including compliance with all environmental laws.

7.3 Engineering Materials Market Specific

(a) Competition from Existing Market Players

The Company may face competition from existing market players who may, for example, undertake aggressive marketing campaigns, product innovation or price discounting.

(b) Highly Competitive Market

The Company will be participating in a highly competitive market, however there are few, if any, specific competitors who have a dominant market share and dictate the structure or practices in the market.

The fact that there are no dominant competitors makes market entry and penetration easier but not without the need to ensure that the Company can position and differentiate itself to gain market share. There is no certainty that the Company will be successful in this market.

Although the Company will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, which activities or actions may, positively or negatively, affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's business.

(c) Multiple Markets and End Uses

CFOAM has the potential to be monetised in a number of markets and has a number of potential end uses. However, targeting every market and end use at once is impractical for a company of this size given, among other things, that each market and potential end use has different relationship requirements, different sales requirements, different purchasing time-frames and so on, and requires its own business plan.

The Company must therefore decide about the markets and end uses in which it is most likely to be successful in the shortest amount of time, and seek out those opportunities. There can be no guarantee that this approach will be successful.

7.4 General risks

(a) Limited Operating History

The Company was incorporated in March 2016 and accordingly has a limited operating history and the potential of its business model is unproven. While significant funding and time has been spent on the development of CFOAM, it has not yet reached the commercialised manufacturing stage. Therefore an investment in the Company should be considered in light of the risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in their early stages of production.

(b) Economic

General economic conditions, introduction of tax reform, new legislation, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Company's activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

(c) Market conditions

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Company's quoted securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) introduction of tax reform or other new legislation;
- (iii) interest rates and inflation rates;
- (iv) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors;
- (v) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and
- (vi) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and industrial stocks in particular. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(d) Market Acceptance

The global marketplace for most products is ever changing due to new technologies, new products, changes in preferences, changes in regulation and other factors influencing market acceptance or market rejection. This market volatility and risk exists despite the best endeavours of market research, promotion and sales and licensing campaigns.

Accordingly, there is a risk that the Company may not be able to commercialise its products, which could adversely impact the Company's operations.

(e) Reliance on Key Personnel and the Need to Attract and Retain Qualified Staff

The responsibility of overseeing the day-to-day operations and the strategic management of the Company depends substantially on its senior management and its key personnel. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to retain its key management personnel or attract or retain sufficiently qualified personnel on a timely basis. There can be no assurance given that there will be no detrimental impact on the Company if one or more of these employees cease their employment.

(f) Foreign Exchange Rate Risks

The Company expects to derive a majority of its revenue and incur its business expenses from its operations in the United States, in US dollars. Accordingly, changes in the exchange rate between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar would be expected to have a direct effect on the performance of the Company.

(g) Changes to Government Policies and Legislative Changes

Government policy and legislative changes which are outside the control of the Company may have a negative impact on the financial performance of the Company. This risk factor applies to government policy and legislative changes in the United States of America and in Australia.

7.5 Investment Speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Securities offered under this Prospectus

Therefore, the Securities to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those Securities.

Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for Securities pursuant to this Prospectus.

BDO Audit (WA) Pty Ltd issued an unmodified audit opinion on the financial report, however did include an emphasis of matter noting that the ability of CFOAM to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the success of the fundraising under the Prospectus and/or the continued support of shareholders.

The Historical Financial Information for Carbon Innovations for the period 19 October 2015 (date of incorporation) to 20 May 2016 has been extracted from the financial statements of Carbon Innovations for the period ended on that date, which was audited by BDO Audit (WA) Pty Ltd in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards. BDO Audit (WA) Pty Ltd issued an unmodified audit opinion on the financial report, however did include an emphasis of matter noting that the ability of Carbon Innovations to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support of its holding company, CFOAM.

Pro Forma Historical Financial Information

Carbon Innovations is a 100% owned subsidiary of CFOAM. As such, the pro forma historical financial information disclosed in the prospectus is presented on a consolidated basis. You have requested BDO to review the following pro forma consolidated historical financial information (the 'Pro Forma Historical Financial Information') of CFOAM (including its 100% owned subsidiary, Carbon Innovations) included in the Prospectus:

- the pro forma historical Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at 20 May 2016.

The Pro Forma Historical Financial Information has been derived from the Historical Financial Information of CFOAM and Carbon Innovations, after adjusting for the effects of the subsequent events described in Section 6 of this Report and the pro forma adjustments described in Section 7 of this Report. The stated basis of preparation is the recognition and measurement principles contained in Australian Accounting Standards applied to the Historical Financial Information and the events or transaction to which the pro forma adjustments relate, as described in Section 7 of this Report, as if those events or transactions had occurred as at the date of the Historical Financial Information. Due to its nature, the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information does not represent the company's actual or prospective financial position or financial performance.

The Pro Forma Historical Financial Information has been compiled by the Company to illustrate the impact of the events or transactions described in Section 6 and Section 7 of the Report on the Company's financial position as at 20 May 2016. As part of this process, information about the Company's financial position has been extracted by the Company from the financial statements of CFOAM and Carbon Innovations for the period ended 20 May 2016.

3. Directors' responsibility

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Historical Financial Information and Pro Forma Historical Financial Information, including the selection and determination of pro forma adjustments made to the Historical Financial Information and included in the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information. This includes responsibility for such internal controls as the directors determine are necessary to enable the preparation of Historical Financial Information and Pro Forma Historical Financial Information are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

4. Our responsibility

Our responsibility is to express limited assurance conclusions on the Historical Financial Information and the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information. We have conducted our engagement in accordance with the Standard on Assurance Engagements ASAE 3450 Assurance Engagements involving Corporate Fundraisings and/or Prospective Financial Information.

Our limited assurance procedures consisted of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A limited assurance engagement is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain reasonable assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in a reasonable assurance engagement. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Our engagement did not involve updating or re-issuing any previously issued audit or limited assurance reports on any financial information used as a source of the financial information.

5. Conclusion

Historical Financial Information

Based on our limited assurance engagement, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Historical Financial Information, as described in the Appendices to this Report, and comprising:

- the historical Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income for CFOAM for the period 30 March 2016 (date of incorporation) to 20 May 2016;
- the historical Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income for Carbon Innovations for the period 19 October 2015 (date of incorporation) to 20 May 2016; and
- the historical Statement of Financial Position for both CFOAM and Carbon Innovations as at 20 May 2016.

is not presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with the stated basis of preparation, as described in Section 2 of this Report.

Pro Forma Historical Financial information

Based on our limited assurance engagement, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information as described in the Appendices to this Report, and comprising:

- the pro forma historical Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at 20 May 2016, is not presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with the stated basis of preparation, as described in Section 2 of this Report.

6. Subsequent Events

Apart from the matters dealt with in this Report, and having regard to the scope of this Report and the information provided by the Directors, to the best of our knowledge and belief no material transaction or events outside of the ordinary business of the Company, has come to our attention that would require comment on, or adjustment to, the information referred to in our Report or that would cause such information to be misleading or deceptive.

7. Assumptions Adopted in Compiling the Pro-forma Historical Financial Information

The pro forma historical Consolidated Statement of Financial Position is shown in Appendix 2. This has been prepared based on the financial statements of CFOAM and Carbon Innovations as at 20 May 2016, and the following transactions and events relating to the issue of Shares under this Prospectus:

- The issue of 45 million shares at an offer price of A$0.20 each to raise A$9 million before costs based on the maximum subscription or the issue of 25 million shares at an offer price of A$0.20 each to raise A$5 million before costs based on the minimum subscription, pursuant to the Public Offer;
- Costs associated with the Offer are estimated to be A$620,000 based on the minimum subscription or A$865,000 based on the maximum subscription. An amount of A$346,939 based on the minimum subscription and A$601,604 based on the maximum subscription relate to the issue of new shares and are to be offset against contributed equity with the remaining costs to be expensed;
- The issue of 1,800,000 Shares pursuant to the Advisor Offer. These Shares have been valued at the Public Offer issue price of A$0.20 each;
- The issue of 1,750,000 Options pursuant to the Manager Offer. In respect of 1,000,000 of these Options, the exercise price will be $0.30 and the expiry date will be 30 June 2021 (these Options will not vest until 31 December 2017). In respect of 750,000 of these Options, the exercise price will be $0.50 and the expiry date will be 30 June 2021 (these Options will not vest until 30 June 2018). As both tranches of Options do not vest immediately the expense is to be apportioned over the respective vesting periods. Therefore no expense has been recorded in the pro forma historical Consolidated Statement of Financial Position;
- The issue of 1,250,000 Performance Rights to Daniel Placha or his nominee(s). The Performance Rights have a life that is 3 years from the issue date. The Performance Rights shall vest upon satisfaction of the following:
 - 750,000 Performance Rights will vest upon completion of the de-bottleneck of the production of CFOAM process after the capital investment as part of the commercialisation strategy; and

- 500,000 Performance Rights will vest upon the Company's post-Completion cumulative sales volume of CFOAM reaching US$3,000,000.

provided that in no circumstance will the Performance Rights vest prior to 1 year after issue date. As both tranches of Performance Rights do not vest immediately the expense is to be apportioned over the respective vesting periods. Therefore no expense has been recorded in the pro forma historical Consolidated Statement of Financial Position;

- CFOAM will make the following upfront payments to Touchstone Research in consideration for the Acquisition, in addition to the US$200,000 Escrow Deposit already paid:
 - Payment of the Initial Cash Consideration of US$2,000,000 (A$2,777,778 at an FX rate of A$1/US$0.72);
 - The Company will issue the Initial Promissory Note of US$800,000 (A$1,111,111 at an FX rate of A$1/US$0.72); and
 - The Company will issue 9,187,500 Shares to Touchstone Research pursuant to the Consideration Offer. These Shares have been valued at the Public Offer issue price of A$0.20 each;
- CFOAM will issue the Secondary Promissory Note of US$4,000,000 (A$5,555,556 at an FX rate of A$1/US$0.72). The Secondary Promissory Note and any accrued interest is payable to Touchstone Research as follows:
 - US$2,000,000 plus accrued interest is payable within 30 days of post-Completion cumulative sales volume reaching US$3,000,000; or
 - If post-Completion cumulative sales volume has not reached US$3,000,000 within one year of Completion, then US$1,000,000 plus accrued interest is payable within 10 days of the date that is one year following Completion; and
 - The remaining principal balance of the Secondary Promissory Note plus all unpaid accrued interest will be paid in full on the later of:
 - 30 days of post-Completion cumulative sales volume reaching US$6,000,000; and
 - The second anniversary of the Completion.

APPENDIX 3
CFOAM LIMITED

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the Historical Financial Information included in this Report have been set out below.

Basis of preparation of Historical Financial Information

The Historical Financial Information has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement, but not all the disclosure requirements of the International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRS'), other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board, Australian Accounting Interpretations and the Corporations Act 2001.

Going Concern

The Historical Financial Information has been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of normal business activity and the realisation of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Directors believe that the Company will continue as a going concern. As a result the financial information has been prepared on a going concern basis. However should the fundraising under the Prospectus be unsuccessful, the entity may not be able to continue as a going concern. No adjustments have been made relating to the recoverability and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company not continue as a going concern.

Reporting Basis and Conventions

The Report is also prepared on an accrual basis and is based on historic costs and does not take into account changing money values or, except where specifically stated, current valuations of non-current assets.

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the Company in the preparation of the Report. The accounting policies have been consistently applied, unless otherwise stated.

a) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the statement of financial position.

b) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables represent the liabilities at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the company that remain unpaid.

Trade payables are recognised at their transaction price. Trade payables are obligations on the basis of normal credit terms.

c) Issued capital

Common shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

d) Current and non-current classification

Assets and liabilities are presented in the statement of financial position based on current and non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when: it is either expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting period; or the asset is cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when: it is either expected to be settled in normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period; or there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

e) Fair value measurement

When an asset or liability, financial or non-financial, is measured at fair value for recognition or disclosure purposes, the fair value is based on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date; and assumes that the transaction will take place either: in the principal market; or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market.

Fair value is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming they act in their economic best interests. For non-financial assets, the fair value measurement is based on its highest and best use. Valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, are used, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

f) Borrowings

Loans and borrowings are initially recognised at the fair value of the consideration received, net of transaction costs. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

g) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired, other than goodwill, are initially measured at their fair value at the date of the acquisition. Intangible assets acquired separately are initially recognised at cost. Indefinite life intangible assets are not amortised and are subsequently measured at cost less any impairment. Finite life intangible assets are subsequently measured at cost less amortisation and any impairment. The gains or losses recognised in profit or loss arising from the derecognition of intangible assets are measured as the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the intangible asset. The method and useful lives of finite life intangible assets are reviewed annually. Changes in the expected pattern of consumption or useful life are accounted for prospectively by changing the amortisation method or period.

h) Impairment of non-financial assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other non-financial assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount.

Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value-in-use. The value-in-use is the present value of the estimated future cash flows relating to the asset using a pre-tax discount rate specific to the asset or cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Assets that do not have independent cash flows are grouped together to form a cash-generating unit.

i) Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of the historical financial information requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the historical financial information. Management continually evaluates its judgements and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenue and expenses. Management bases its judgements, estimates and assumptions on historical experience and on other various factors, including expectations of future events, management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting judgements and estimates will seldom equal the related actual results. The judgements, estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities (refer to the respective notes) within the next financial period are discussed below.

Asset Acquisition

On 29 March 2016, CFOAM, through its wholly owned US subsidiary, Carbon Innovations, entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement to acquire all of the assets which are used or held for use in connection with the production and sale of 'CFOAM' from Touchstone Research.

The Company has considered whether the Acquisition falls within the scope of AASB 3 Business Combinations and therefore is required to be accounted for as a business combination. A business combination involves an acquirer obtaining control of one or more business by transferring cash, incurring liabilities or issuing shares. A business is an integrated set of activities and assets that is capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return in the form of dividends, lower costs or other economic benefits directly to investors. The Company does not consider that the Acquisition meets the definition of a business combination in accordance with AASB 3 Business Combination as the acquired Assets are not deemed to be a business for accounting purposes, therefore have provisionally accounted for the Acquisition as an asset acquisition.

When an asset acquisition does not constitute a business combination, the assets and liabilities are assigned a carrying amount based on their relative fair values in an asset purchase transaction and no deferred tax will arise in relation to the acquired assets and assumed liabilities as the initial recognition exemption for deferred tax under AASB 112 applies. No goodwill will arise on the acquisition and transaction costs of the acquisition will be included in the capitalised cost of the asset.

Provision for other assets

The provision for impairment of the Escrow Deposit assessment requires a degree of estimation and judgement. Recoverability of the Escrow Deposit is dependent upon the successful completion of the acquisition of the CFOAM assets from Touchstone Research.

Provision for impairment of receivables

The provision for impairment of receivables assessment requires a degree of estimation and judgement. The level of provision is assessed by taking into account the recent sales experience, the aging of receivables historical collection rates and specific knowledge of the individual debtors financial position.

Valuation of share based payment transactions

The valuation of share-based payment transactions is measured by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined using the Black Scholes option valuation model taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the instruments were granted.

Impairment of intangible assets

At each reporting date, the Company will review the carrying values of its intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. As at the date of this Report, the Company does not consider there to be any impairment on the carrying value of the intangible assets acquired. However, on successful acquisition date and subsequent reporting dates, the carrying value of the intangible assets acquired will be assessed for impairment and any assessment may result in changes to the carrying value of the intangible assets.

NOTE 9: PROVISIONAL ACCOUNTING FOR THE ACQUISITION

On 29 March 2016, CFOAM, through its wholly owned US subsidiary, Carbon Innovations, entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement to acquire all of the assets which are used or held for use in connection with the production and sale of 'CFOAM' from Touchstone Research. The purchase price payable to Touchstone Research for the Acquisition is outlined in Section 1 of this Report.

The Company has considered whether the Acquisition falls within the scope of AASB 3 Business Combinations and therefore is required to be accounted for as a business combination. A business combination involves an acquirer obtaining control of one or more business by transferring cash, incurring liabilities or issuing shares. A business is an integrated set of activities and assets that is capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return in the form of dividends, lower costs or other economic benefits directly to investors. The Company does not consider that the Acquisition meets the definition of a business combination in accordance with AASB 3 Business Combinations as the acquired Assets are not deemed to be a business for accounting purposes, therefore have provisionally accounted for the Acquisition as an asset acquisition.

A summary of the acquisition details with respect to the proposed Acquisition as included in our Report is set out below. These details have been determined for the purposes of the pro-forma adjustments as at 20 May 2016, however will require re-determination as at the successful acquisition date which may result in changes to the values set out below.

RE: Intellectual Property Report on Carbon Innovations, LLC

Dear Sirs:

Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney (“BIR”) has been asked to provide a report on intellectual property ownership and status by Carbon Innovations, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“Carbon Innovations”), for inclusion in a capital raising prospectus (“Prospectus”) proposed to be issued by CFOAM LTD (“CFOAM”) as part of CFOAM’s acquisition, through Carbon Innovations, of certain assets of Touchstone Research Laboratory, Ltd., a West Virginia corporation (“TRL”). It is our understanding that in May 2016, CFOAM acquired all of the outstanding equity interests of Carbon Innovations and Carbon Innovations became a wholly-owned subsidiary of CFOAM. Carbon Innovations entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement, as of March 29, 2016 (the “APA”), by and among Carbon Innovations, TRL and Brian E. Joseph (“Joseph”), whereby Carbon Innovations agreed to buy and TRL and Joseph agreed to sell, certain assets of TRL, all as described in the APA.

1. Background, Interests and Disclosure

1.1. In preparing this report, BIR has relied upon independent inquiries, searches, documentation, and information provided by officers and senior management of Carbon Innovations.

1.2. The details in this report are believed to be correct as of the date of this report and speak only as of the date hereof. BIR assumes no obligation to review or supplement this report if any applicable laws change after the date hereof or as a result of changes caused by existing law or if we become aware of any facts or circumstances that might change the information or conclusions contained in this report.

For personal use only

1.3. BIR does not have any shareholding interest in either Carbon Innovations or CFOAM or any interest in the outcome of the Prospectus other than in connection with the preparation of this Intellectual Property (IP) Report and participation in the due diligence procedures for which normal professional fees will be received.

1.4. BIR has consented to the inclusion of this IP Report in the Prospectus in the form and context in which it is prepared, but has not authorized the issue of the Prospectus. Accordingly, BIR makes no representation regarding, and takes no responsibility for, any other statements or material in, or omissions from, the Prospectus.

1.5. BIR, in providing this IP Report, is not to be taken as an endorsement of Carbon Innovations or CFOAM, the Carbon Innovations technologies or the offering made pursuant to the Prospectus.

1.6 BIR includes no attorneys registered to practice in Australia; this IP Report, therefore, is written solely with reference to the federal laws of the United States of America.

1.7 This report is issued solely to the sole member of Carbon Innovations and may not be relied upon or used by any other person for any reason.

2. Carbon Innovations' Intellectual Property Strategy

2.1. Carbon Innovations' IP strategy revolves around protection of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, methods for making and using carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, and methods for making and using applications of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, including protection through patents, confidential information and the use of trademarks.

2.2. Carbon Innovations has taken steps to secure ownership of patents related to carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, methods for making and using carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, and methods for making and using applications of carbon foam and carbon foam-containing materials, including, upon consummation of the transactions contemplated by the APA, obtaining assignment of patent rights from TRL and Joseph, which, in turn, obtained rights from named inventors where required.¹ Carbon Innovations does not own any patent rights as of the date of this report, other than rights that will be acquired pursuant to the closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA.

2.3. Carbon Innovations has taken steps to secure ownership of registered trademarks in the United States of America from TRL, upon consummation of the transactions contemplated by the APA. Carbon Innovations does not own any registered trademarks in Australia. Carbon Innovations does not own any registered trademarks as of the date of this report, other than rights that will be acquired pursuant to the closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA. Unregistered trademarks may be protected by the common law regimes of passing off and misleading and deceptive conduct under the Australian Consumer Law; determination of the scope of this protection, if any, would require consultation with qualified Australian counsel.

3. Patents/Protection for Inventions

3.1. A patent is a right that is granted by a government or authorized government agency for any device, substance, method or process that is new, inventive and useful. A patent is legally enforceable and typically gives the owner the right to exclude others from making, selling, offering to sell, using, importing, or exporting the invention claimed in the patent for the life of the patent (typically up to 20 years after the date that the application resulting in the patent was filed).

3.2 United States patents require the payment of maintenance fees at 3.5, 7.5, and 11.5 years after issuance of the patent. Each of those terms may be extended by six months (the "grace period") upon payment of a fee. Following acquisition of the patents listed below, Carbon Innovations will be required to pay maintenance fees to maintain those patents in force.

3.3 In some cases TRL failed to pay required maintenance fees at both the initial deadline and during the grace period. Those patents that are marked with an asterisk below were, at one point, abandoned for failure to pay maintenance fees. TRL revived those patents by paying the fees and filing a petition stating that the failure to pay the fees was unintentional. Although the patents have full force and effect from the date that they were revived, a party that detrimentally relied upon the expiration of those patents prior to the payment of the late maintenance fee may have "intervening rights" that permit that party to make, sell, or use the invention claimed in those patents. Typically this is not a blanket, indefinite right to use the invention. Instead it may extend to the scope that a court deems equitable for the protection of investments made or business commenced after the 6-month grace period but before acceptance of the late maintenance fee.

3.4 TRL has not recorded assignment documents for U.S. Patent Nos. 7,481,855 and 7,736,729. This letter assumes that TRL will record those assignment documents with the United States Patent and Trademark Office prior to consummation of its transaction with Carbon Innovations.

For personal use only

3.5. Upon consummation of the transaction contemplated by the APA, Carbon Innovations will become the owner of the following patents/patent applications (the "Patent Properties"). This is based upon record title of these patents as reflected on June 8, 2016. Note that although recordation of a patent assignment is typically required for the assignment to be effective against a subsequent good-faith purchaser for value, there is a three-month grace period following assignment during which an unrecorded assignment is valid against a subsequent good-faith purchaser for value. This letter assumes that TRL has not made any undisclosed and unrecorded assignments of these patents to any third party within three months prior to June 8, 2016, up to and including the date of execution of the APA.

3.6. Following the satisfaction of certain conditions, the APA requires TRL and Joseph to enter into assignment documents transferring ownership of each of these patent assets to Carbon Innovations. The aforementioned APA and assignment includes confirmation by TRL for the inventions defined and described in the patents/patent applications of ownership by TRL and the subsequent transfer of ownership to Carbon Innovations by the assignment.

3.7. The transfer of ownership of the Patent Properties has not yet occurred or been recorded in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). Following the closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA, Carbon Innovations and TRL will take the steps necessary to record the change of ownership in the USPTO. Recordal of change of ownership by way of assignment is required by the USPTO to ensure that the assignment is valid against a subsequent good faith purchaser for value of the patents, and if the assignment is recorded within three months of its execution, it will be treated as if it was recorded on the date of execution.

3.8. Third parties may own patents that are relevant to the Carbon Innovations' technology. A "freedom to operate" patent search is a search of patent databases to determine whether there are any patents which Carbon Innovations may infringe by using their technology. No such patent searches have been undertaken by or on behalf of Carbon Innovations.

4. Trademarks

4.1. A trademark is a "badge of origin" used to distinguish the goods and services of one trader from those of another. A registered trademark is a right that is granted by a government or authorized government agency. A registered trademark is legally enforceable and gives the owner the exclusive rights to commercially use, license or sell the trademark for the goods and services it is registered in relation to for the life of the registration (typically 10 years, but renewable indefinitely).

4.2. Carbon Innovations does not own any Australian trade mark registrations.

4.3. Upon closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA, Carbon Innovations will become the owner of the following United States trademark registrations, which are recorded on the Federal Trademark Register.²

² On June 9, 2016, TRL filed a "Combined Declaration of Use/Application for Renewal" of Reg. No. 3,028,815. This letter assumes that filing will be accepted by the USPTO. If that filing is not accepted by the USPTO, then that registration will be abandoned.

For personal use only

US	CFOAM	78/527,842	3,028,815	Dec. 13, 2005	Live

US	CFOAM	75/794,233	2,559,559	Apr. 9, 2002	Live

4.4. Upon closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA, Carbon Innovations will acquire ownership of the above-listed trademarks by way of an assignment that will be executed, transferring ownership of each of these trademarks, including their goodwill, to Carbon Innovations from TRL.

4.5. Third parties may own registered trademarks or have common law trademark rights in marks that are substantially identical or deceptively similar to the Carbon Innovations trademarks. If a third party owns a relevant registered trademark or common law trademark right, Carbon Innovations may be prevented from using the Carbon Innovations trademarks if the Carbon Innovations trademarks infringe a relevant trademark registration or infringe common law trademark rights. A 'freedom to operate' trademark search is a search of trademark databases to determine whether there are any registered or pending trademarks that are similar to the Carbon Innovations trademarks. No trademark searches have been undertaken by or on behalf of Carbon Innovations in any jurisdiction. No in depth freedom to operate analysis in relation to the use of the trademarks and any potential infringement has been conducted in any jurisdiction.

5. Domain Names

5.1. A domain name is a license between the domain name registrant and relevant domain name provider that allows the registrant to exclusively use the domain name for the term of the license (typically 2 years, indefinitely renewable).

5.2. Upon closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA and any necessary filings required to assign domain names from TRL to Carbon Innovations, Carbon Innovations will become the registrant for the following domain names:

Domain Name
www.cfoam.com
www.cfoam.net
www.cfoam.org
www.carbonfoam.net
www.carbonfoam.org

6. Intellectual Property Licenses

6.1. Upon closing of the transactions contemplated by the APA, Carbon Innovations is obligated to grant a License to TRL, for use of the Patent Properties to make and use carbon foam applications and for limited use of the Patent Properties to make and use carbon foam for in-house research purposes.

6.2. The United States Patent and Trademark Office assignment database indicates that certain TRL patents are subject to licenses in favor of the United States government:

U.S. Dept. of the Navy: 6,899,970; 6,649,652; 7,767,183; 7,481,855; 7,247,368;
6,869,455; 6,860,910
U.S. Air Force: 6,849,098; 7,824,645; 6,656,239
U.S. Dept. of Energy: 7,544,222

We have not been provided with these licenses and therefore provide no comment on them.

7. Miscellaneous Intellectual Property Matters

7.1. Distribution/JV/Partner agreements: Carbon Innovations has not entered into any distribution/JV/Partner agreements that include a license or transfer of Carbon Innovations' IP.

7.2. Valuations of the IP: No valuations of Carbon Innovations' IP have been conducted.

7.3. Previous and current litigation (actual or threatened) regarding the IP: to our knowledge, there is no previous, current or threatened litigation in relation to Carbon Innovations' IP.
